FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LOCAL PERFORMERS TUNE-IN TO YES

MONTREAL, April 23, 2007 – Announced today, Lorraine Klaasen, the eclectic and exuberant South African singer, will headline Tune-In To YES a benefit concert to be held on May 29, 2007 at the Corona Theatre. Klaasen, and other Montreal based performers, will be donating their time to raise funds for YES Montreal, a non-profit organization, which delivers English language job-search and self-employment services to Quebecers.

Hosted by Andy Nulman — co-founder of the Montreal Just for Laughs Festival, and President and CMO of Airborne Entertainment — this evening of musical and comedic variety will cater to everyone's taste. Andy's talent is guaranteed to make you laugh, while the diverse musical styling of Lorraine Klaasen, Joanne Griffith and SueSoul are sure to captivate you.

VIP tickets with preferential seating for the concert are available for $50, and include door prizes, a silent auction, and food from 5:30-7:30pm. General admission balcony seating is available for $25, doors open at 7:30pm.

All proceeds will go to YES Montreal to help sustain essential services including the "Business Skills for Creative Souls" program, which aims to give self-employed artists the skills necessary to make their art a viable business. Tickets may be purchased directly at YES Montreal by calling 514-878-9788. Additional information is available at www.yesmontreal.ca.
